

THE KENT

VOLUME 1.

MOUNT STERLING

The Kentucky Sentinel,
PUBLISHED WEEKLY, AT
MOUNT STERLING, Kentucky,
BY
WILLIAM T. HANLY,
AT
Three Dollars a Year, Invariably in Advance.

RATES AND RULES OF ADVERTISING.

	1w	2w	3w	1m	6m	1y
1 Square, day	$1	$2	$3	$7	$12	$20
2 do	2	4	6	14	24	40
3 do	3	6	9	21	36	60
4 do	4	8	12	28	48	80
5 do	5	10	15	35	60	100
6 do	6	12	18	42	72	120
7 do	7	14	21	49	84	140
8 do	8	16	24	56	96	160
9 do	9	18	27	63	108	180
10 do	10	20	30	70	120	200

A square is 10 lines or less of this size type.

Marriage and Death notices will be inserted free of charge.

Obituary notices will be charged for at the rate of $1.00 for the first ten lines, and six cents each for every additional line.

No "fill" or "padding" advertisements inserted under any circumstances.

Announcing candidates $5.00.

Transient advertisements must be paid for in advance.

Liberal arrangements will be made with annual advertisers.

JOE WOLF

All Job Work must be paid for on delivery.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

Circuit Court.—Hon. R. Apperson, Jr., Judge.

J. S. Day, County Attorney.

J. M. Crawford, Clerk.

County Court.—Hon. Calvin Brock, Judge.

J. S. Day, County Attorney.

P. C. Bedford, Sheriff.

J. H. Trimble, Deputy.

Police Court.—Thomas Metcalfe, Judge.

John W. Rose, Marshal.

B. A. Seaver, Prob. Attorney.

PROFESSIONAL.

B. A. SEEVER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

MT. STERLING, KY.

Will attend promptly to all business confided to his care.

Office North side Public Square.

Je 13-7.

T. TURNER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

MOUNT STERLING, KY.

Will practice in Montgomery, Bath, Powell, and Clark counties, and in the Court of Appeals.

July 28, 1892.

J. S. DURY,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

AND

COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

FOR THE 11TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Office Mayville Street.

MOUNT STERLING, KENTUCKY.

July 13, 1892.

WM. H. HOLY.

HOLT & HURST,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

MT. STERLING, KY.

Will attend promptly to all business confided to their care in Montgomery, Bath, Powell, Wolfe, Morgan, Magellan, Owsley, and Breathitt counties, and in the Court of Appeals.

Oct. 27.

J. DAVIS REID.

REID & REID,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

MT. STERLING, KY.

Will attend promptly to all business confided to their care. Special attention will be given to the collection of all claims against the United States Government.

Je 13-7.

O. S. TENNEY,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

MAYVILLE STREET,

MOUNT STERLING, KENTUCKY.

Je 13-7.

HAZELRIGG & WINN,

ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELLORS

AT LAW.

Office on Main Street, Mount Sterling, Ky.

July 13, 1892-7.

DR. J. T. HOOD,

MT. STERLING, KY.

Tenders his Professional Services to the citizens of this place and Montgomery county.

Office over H. Campbell's Clothing Establishment.

July 13, 1892.

DR. CHARLES DUERSON,

Office at the Drug Store of J. P. Young & Co., MAIN STREET, MOUNT STERLING, KY.

Tenders his professional services to the citizens of this place, and Montgomery county.

July 13, 1892-7.

T. H. RIGGEN,

DENTIST,

MAIN STREET, MT. STERLING, KY.

August 4, 1892.

DR. J. THORNLEY,

MT. STERLING, KY.

Office—Over Anderson & Wilkerson's Dry Goods Store. Residence, Mrs. J. T. Hazelrigg's.

Aug. 4, 1892-6m.

THOMAS METCALFE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

MT. STERLING, KY.

Office on Mayville Street.

J. R. CARRETT,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

MT. STERLING, KY.

Will attend promptly to all business entrusted to his care.

OFFICE—On Main Street, over B. P. BECKLEY'S HARDWARE STORE.

Jan 2.

J. M. ELLIOTT,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

OWINGSVILLE, KY.

Will practice his profession in the following counties, to-wit: Bath, Montgomery, Wolfe, Morgan, Magellan, Floyd, Johnson and Powell. All business placed in his care will be promptly attended to. He will also practice in the Appellate Court of Kentucky.

[Nov. 3-11]

Select Poetry.

CONJUGAL POETRY.

An editor, David Parker, Esq., who has produced some of the best poetry ever written by a Maine man, pleased at a little incident that happened in his family, (the first occurrence of the kind) gives vent to his feelings in the following interesting and imaginative effusion, entitled

"My child's origin."

One night as old Saint Peter slept,
He left the door of Heaven ajar,
When through a little angel crept,
And came down with a falling star.

One summer, as the blessed breeze,
Of noon approached, my blessing came,
Awoke from sweet and pleasing dreams,
And found that angel by her side.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That when he leaves this world of sin,
He'll wing his way to that bright shore,
And find that door of Heaven again.

Whereupon, some fellow of a practical turn,
Without any imagination, and not possessed of the "divine afflatus," has attempted to destroy the illusion of David as follows:

SAINT PETER'S REPLY.

Full eighteen hundred years or more,
I've kept my door securely tiled,
There was no little angel strayed,
Nor one been missing all the while.

I did not sleep, as you supposed,
Nor left the gate of Heaven ajar,
Nor has a little angel left,
And gone down with a falling star.

Go ask the blushing bride, and see
If she don't frankly own, and say
That when she found that angel here,
She found it by the good old way.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That should your number still enlarge,
That you will not do as before,
And lay it to Saint Peter's charge.

Select Story.

THE POISONED POWDER.

There are various traditions as to the origin of the Golden Lily upon the shield of France. Among these is the following incident, said to have occurred in the latter part of the 11th century, during the reign of Louis VII.

The Princess Constance, when she was a child, was the favorite of her mother, the Countess de Neville, who, in the reign of her father, King Philip, was the most powerful woman in France.

One day, when she was only a child, she was playing in the garden, and her mother, who was standing by her, saw her pick up a small golden flower, which she had just seen lying on the ground.

She called to her, and said, "What is that?" and she answered, "A little golden flower." "That is a poisonous flower," said her mother, "and you must not touch it." "But it is so pretty," said the child, "I will keep it." "No," said her mother, "it is poisonous, and you must throw it away."

Through by this course he greatly endeared himself to the mass of his subjects, his life was more than once threatened, and even attempted; but these plots invariably originated among the haughty nobles who rested under the restraints imposed upon them by the King's strong arm, and his just and kindly heart.

In the summer of the eleventh year of his reign, weary of the cares of State, Philip retired with his court to his royal residence at Chaumont, which was a favorite resort to him.

Among his train was Geoffrey, Count de Saville, the natural son of Louis VII, the King's half-brother. He was a mild and inoffensive man, apparently well contented with the title and estate conferred by the late King upon his mother, and which he had inherited upon her death, but unfortunately, he was a haughty, ambitious woman, who was but ill-inclined to forego her claims to royalty.

At the death of Louis, she openly asserted that there had been a secret marriage between him and the late Countess de Neville, and upon the head of her son should rest the crown of France, he being the eldest born, and urged her husband to assert his claim. But this the Count refused to do, being ill-fitted by nature to get a part requiring more than usual energy and ability, besides entertaining too strong an affection for the young King who had treated him with unusual kindness, to seek to deprive him of his rightful inheritance.

If Philip heard of the pretensions which the Countess set forth, he manifested no outward token of displeasure or distrust. On the contrary, he gave his brother many evidences of regard, appointing him to honorary offices near his person, although he took care that they were such that they conferred but little power.

This was a new source of grievance to the haughty Countess, who never relinquished the idea of becoming a Queen, and had fondly imagined that, on account of Philip's youth, his brother would obtain such a strong ascendancy over his mind, as would make him King in reality, if not in name.

This disappointment was felt with increased bitterness when she became the mother of a son, in whom she centered all her ambitious hopes, and all the love she was capable of feeling for any one.

Unlike our modern fine ladies the dames of high degree of that remote period, were early risers; and the Countess de Neville often took long rides on horseback before the dew was off the grass, unattended, except by her groom, who kept at a respectful distance, just near enough to be within call, should his lady require assistance.

One morning she passed in front of a little cottage, situated in a perfect wilderness of bloom. As an involuntary ejaculation of surprise and admiration escaped her lips, a pretty, intelligent looking girl raised her bright eyes from the rosebush she was pruning.

"I have some handsomer within, arranged in bouquets," she said, smiling, "if madam would like to examine them."

Throwing the reins of her horse to her attendant, the Countess alighted, and to the surprise of the servant, who had never known her haughty mistress to be guilty of so much condescension before.

As the Countess entered the little, low room, the pretty flower girl displayed her beautiful collection of bouquets with pardonable pride.

"All any of them are at your service, with the exception of this," she said, pointing to one composed of golden lilies and white roses, and relieved by a few leaves of green; "it is for the King."

"So King Philip buys the flowers, pretty maiden?"

"Yes, madame; I have orders to bring them to the palace daily. The golden lily is his favorite flower; and there are only those in bloom to-day."

"I will take this," said the Countess, selecting one of the bouquets, and taking from her purse a gold piece of more than double the value, "but first bring me a cool draught of water from the spring yonder."

With a light step the young girl took a pitcher and passed out to the spring that was but a short distance from the door. As she glanced in and saw, much to her surprise, her visitor bending over the stand of flowers, and apparently sprinkling something from her hand upon those she had laid aside for the King. When she took it away her eye caught a gleam of a small golden flask, such as the ladies of that period used for their cosmetics and perfumery. But when she entered the room, she found her in the same position in which she had left her. She could not forbear to observe that the Countess was drawing her robe over her head, and when she turned to the door, she found her in the same position.

"Take my advice, my good girl; place the stand nearer the window, and be not much over there; their perfume is quite too strong for so small a room."

There was something about these words, carefully spoken though they were, that deepened the undefined suspicions in the young girl's heart; and following her suggestion, she placed the stand of flowers directly in front of the open window. Then by a close examination of the bouquet destined for the King she detected the presence of a fine white powder, so impalpable to the eye upon the white petals of the rose but clearly visible upon the lilies whose peculiar shape by exposing the leaves to the full rays of the sun as well as their vivid color, threw it into strong relief; and as she bent over them the faint but penetrating odor that arose made her so giddy that she would have fallen had it not been for the tall and shapely youth who had just entered and whose livery showed him to be in the service of the King.

It was her lover, Francois, King Philip's body servant, and who, passing by the house, called to have a chat with his betrothed.

"How, now, Marie?" he said, looking into her face. "What has frightened the roses from your cheek, and given you such a strange look?"

The honest hearted fellow was sincerely attached to his royal master, and hesitated gravely to Marie's account of the strange conduct of her visitor, and the suspicions to which it gave rise.

"It has a bad look," he said thoughtfully; "though I believe there is nothing in it. By good luck, I have orders to attend his majesty in his private apartments an hour hence. I will put him on his guard; then surely no harm can come of it."

Somewhat to the surprise of Francois, the King manifested no disquietude at this disclosure, though the grave look and attentive manner with which he listened, showed that he considered it of no light import. He bade him charge Marie to tell no one of what she had discovered, but to come to the palace with her flowers an hour earlier than was her wont, by no means forgetting the golden lilies.

King Philip sat in his audience hall, surrounded by his retinue. A number of the royal family stood near him—among them the Count de Neville, his wife, and the little son, a sweet boy of three, whose winning and sprightly ways made him a favorite with the King.

"And please your Majesty, Marie, the flower girl is waiting without," said one of the guard.

"Admit her," said the King.

THE KENT

CONJUGAL POETRY.

An editor, David Parker, Esq., who has produced some of the best poetry ever written by a Maine man, pleased at a little incident that happened in his family, (the first occurrence of the kind) gives vent to his feelings in the following interesting and imaginative effusion, entitled

"My child's origin."

One night as old Saint Peter slept,
He left the door of Heaven ajar,
When through a little angel crept,
And came down with a falling star.

One summer, as the blessed breeze,
Of noon approached, my blessing came,
Awoke from sweet and pleasing dreams,
And found that angel by her side.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That when he leaves this world of sin,
He'll wing his way to that bright shore,
And find that door of Heaven again.

Whereupon, some fellow of a practical turn,
Without any imagination, and not possessed of the "divine afflatus," has attempted to destroy the illusion of David as follows:

Full eighteen hundred years or more,
I've kept my door securely tiled,
There was no little angel strayed,
Nor one been missing all the while.

I did not sleep, as you supposed,
Nor left the gate of Heaven ajar,
Nor has a little angel left,
And gone down with a falling star.

Go ask the blushing bride, and see
If she don't frankly own, and say
That when she found that angel here,
She found it by the good old way.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That should your number still enlarge,
That you will not do as before,
And lay it to Saint Peter's charge.

Select Story.

THE POISONED POWDER.

There are various traditions as to the origin of the Golden Lily upon the shield of France. Among these is the following incident, said to have occurred in the latter part of the 11th century, during the reign of Louis VII.

The Princess Constance, when she was a child, was the favorite of her mother, the Countess de Neville, who, in the reign of her father, King Philip, was the most powerful woman in France.

One day, when she was only a child, she was playing in the garden, and her mother, who was standing by her, saw her pick up a small golden flower, which she had just seen lying on the ground.

She called to her, and said, "What is that?" and she answered, "A little golden flower." "That is a poisonous flower," said her mother, "and you must not touch it." "But it is so pretty," said the child, "I will keep it." "No," said her mother, "it is poisonous, and you must throw it away."

Through by this course he greatly endeared himself to the mass of his subjects, his life was more than once threatened, and even attempted; but these plots invariably originated among the haughty nobles who rested under the restraints imposed upon them by the King's strong arm, and his just and kindly heart.

In the summer of the eleventh year of his reign, weary of the cares of State, Philip retired with his court to his royal residence at Chaumont, which was a favorite resort to him.

Among his train was Geoffrey, Count de Saville, the natural son of Louis VII, the King's half-brother. He was a mild and inoffensive man, apparently well contented with the title and estate conferred by the late King upon his mother, and which he had inherited upon her death, but unfortunately, he was a haughty, ambitious woman, who was but ill-inclined to forego her claims to royalty.

At the death of Louis, she openly asserted that there had been a secret marriage between him and the late Countess de Neville, and upon the head of her son should rest the crown of France, he being the eldest born, and urged her husband to assert his claim. But this the Count refused to do, being ill-fitted by nature to get a part requiring more than usual energy and ability, besides entertaining too strong an affection for the young King who had treated him with unusual kindness, to seek to deprive him of his rightful inheritance.

If Philip heard of the pretensions which the Countess set forth, he manifested no outward token of displeasure or distrust. On the contrary, he gave his brother many evidences of regard, appointing him to honorary offices near his person, although he took care that they were such that they conferred but little power.

This was a new source of grievance to the haughty Countess, who never relinquished the idea of becoming a Queen, and had fondly imagined that, on account of Philip's youth, his brother would obtain such a strong ascendancy over his mind, as would make him King in reality, if not in name.

This disappointment was felt with increased bitterness when she became the mother of a son, in whom she centered all her ambitious hopes, and all the love she was capable of feeling for any one.

Unlike our modern fine ladies the dames of high degree of that remote period, were early risers; and the Countess de Neville often took long rides on horseback before the dew was off the grass, unattended, except by her groom, who kept at a respectful distance, just near enough to be within call, should his lady require assistance.

One morning she passed in front of a little cottage, situated in a perfect wilderness of bloom. As an involuntary ejaculation of surprise and admiration escaped her lips, a pretty, intelligent looking girl raised her bright eyes from the rosebush she was pruning.

"I have some handsomer within, arranged in bouquets," she said, smiling, "if madam would like to examine them."

Throwing the reins of her horse to her attendant, the Countess alighted, and to the surprise of the servant, who had never known her haughty mistress to be guilty of so much condescension before.

As the Countess entered the little, low room, the pretty flower girl displayed her beautiful collection of bouquets with pardonable pride.

"All any of them are at your service, with the exception of this," she said, pointing to one composed of golden lilies and white roses, and relieved by a few leaves of green; "it is for the King."

"So King Philip buys the flowers, pretty maiden?"

"Yes, madame; I have orders to bring them to the palace daily. The golden lily is his favorite flower; and there are only those in bloom to-day."

"I will take this," said the Countess, selecting one of the bouquets, and taking from her purse a gold piece of more than double the value, "but first bring me a cool draught of water from the spring yonder."

With a light step the young girl took a pitcher and passed out to the spring that was but a short distance from the door. As she glanced in and saw, much to her surprise, her visitor bending over the stand of flowers, and apparently sprinkling something from her hand upon those she had laid aside for the King. When she took it away her eye caught a gleam of a small golden flask, such as the ladies of that period used for their cosmetics and perfumery. But when she entered the room, she found her in the same position in which she had left her. She could not forbear to observe that the Countess was drawing her robe over her head, and when she turned to the door, she found her in the same position.

"Take my advice, my good girl; place the stand nearer the window, and be not much over there; their perfume is quite too strong for so small a room."

There was something about these words, carefully spoken though they were, that deepened the undefined suspicions in the young girl's heart; and following her suggestion, she placed the stand of flowers directly in front of the open window. Then by a close examination of the bouquet destined for the King she detected the presence of a fine white powder, so impalpable to the eye upon the white petals of the rose but clearly visible upon the lilies whose peculiar shape by exposing the leaves to the full rays of the sun as well as their vivid color, threw it into strong relief; and as she bent over them the faint but penetrating odor that arose made her so giddy that she would have fallen had it not been for the tall and shapely youth who had just entered and whose livery showed him to be in the service of the King.

It was her lover, Francois, King Philip's body servant, and who, passing by the house, called to have a chat with his betrothed.

"How, now, Marie?" he said, looking into her face. "What has frightened the roses from your cheek, and given you such a strange look?"

The honest hearted fellow was sincerely attached to his royal master, and hesitated gravely to Marie's account of the strange conduct of her visitor, and the suspicions to which it gave rise.

"It has a bad look," he said thoughtfully; "though I believe there is nothing in it. By good luck, I have orders to attend his majesty in his private apartments an hour hence. I will put him on his guard; then surely no harm can come of it."

Somewhat to the surprise of Francois, the King manifested no disquietude at this disclosure, though the grave look and attentive manner with which he listened, showed that he considered it of no light import. He bade him charge Marie to tell no one of what she had discovered, but to come to the palace with her flowers an hour earlier than was her wont, by no means forgetting the golden lilies.

King Philip sat in his audience hall, surrounded by his retinue. A number of the royal family stood near him—among them the Count de Neville, his wife, and the little son, a sweet boy of three, whose winning and sprightly ways made him a favorite with the King.

"And please your Majesty, Marie, the flower girl is waiting without," said one of the guard.

"Admit her," said the King.

THE KENT

CONJUGAL POETRY.

An editor, David Parker, Esq., who has produced some of the best poetry ever written by a Maine man, pleased at a little incident that happened in his family, (the first occurrence of the kind) gives vent to his feelings in the following interesting and imaginative effusion, entitled

"My child's origin."

One night as old Saint Peter slept,
He left the door of Heaven ajar,
When through a little angel crept,
And came down with a falling star.

One summer, as the blessed breeze,
Of noon approached, my blessing came,
Awoke from sweet and pleasing dreams,
And found that angel by her side.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That when he leaves this world of sin,
He'll wing his way to that bright shore,
And find that door of Heaven again.

THE SENTINEL.

MOUNT STERLING, KY.

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1866.

LOCAL ITEMS.

See S. H. PERRY, 63 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati, is our agent for that city.

See N. N. NORTON & Co., Industrial and Commercial Office, Louisville, Ky., are our authorized agents for that city.

See O. B. DUFF is a candidate for City Marshal at the ensuing June election.

See WE are authorized to announce SAMUEL L. WILLIAMS, as a candidate for City Marshal at the ensuing June election.

See See advertisement of Pocket Book lost in another column.

See Hoffman & Co. have just received a large invoice of fine French china ware.

See The attention of stock raisers is directed to the advertisement of the fine Jack Veto, to be found in another column.

See We this week announce Mr. Sam'l L. Williams as a candidate for Town Marshal, at the ensuing June election.

See DIED—One day last week, at his home, JOHN WILLIAMS, an old and respectable citizen of Winchester, Ky.

See The Grassy Lick Turnpike Company advertise for bids for the construction of five miles of their road. See advertisement.

See Wm. Hoffman will sell on the 27th inst., a valuable town lot adjoining the seminary property. The lot is suitable for building or gardening purposes.

See Hon. Garrett Davis will please accept our thanks for a copy of the official array register, and other valuable documents.

See SUNDAY INVESTMENT.—The Kentucky Prize Concert, to be drawn at Lexington Ky., May 31st. Valuable Gifts for one dollar. See advertisement in another column.

See PETERSON for May is on our table. As usual, its engravings are perfect gems of art, and its literary matter of a very high order of excellence. It is not only the cheapest but the best of our monthlies.

See The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of the Kentucky Insurance Company. This is a home company, and should be patronized by the people of the State.

See We understand Mr. James H. Roberts, the present proprietor of the "Roberts House" in this place, contemplates leaving the Olympian Springs, and opening there this summer for the benefit of the pleasure seeking public.

See Lee & Wilson, in addition to their present stock of Cassimere, have samples of all kinds and grades, which they furnish to order. Call at their store, examine samples, leave your order, and in three or four days you have your goods.

See SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The children of the Christian Sunday School are requested to meet in the Presbyterian Church, on next Sunday, at 4 o'clock, P. M. An address will be delivered by Mr. G. C. Lockhart. The children of the other Sunday schools are invited to be present.

See On Monday evening last, a couple of gentlemen engaged in an altercation on Bank street, in this city. Pistols were drawn, but the intervention of bystanders prevented a tragedy. The excitement was intense for a few moments. It all ended, however, in a liberal contribution to the Met-casse fund.

See FIRE.—We regret to learn that the residence of Mrs. Allen, widow of Chilton Allen of Winchester, was consumed by fire one day last week. It was occupied at the time by Mr. Cheney, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, and for a long time principal of the Winchester Female Academy. Nothing was saved.

See On Sunday, one of our young boys started to the country in a buggy, drawn by a fast team. The team proved a little too fast on this occasion, leaving the buggy and the driver in the condition of Lowry's butternut—scattered along the road in spots. Moral: It is sometimes safer to walk out to see a sweetheart than to drive out "in style."

See "KENTUCKY HOTEL."—We again remind our readers of the excellent qualities of this house. Always up with the season, the table is supplied with everything the market affords, and served up in style that will satisfy the most fastidious. Mrs. Carter, the proprietress, with such indomitable energy, with polite and accommodating clerks, justly deserves the patronage of the public.

See MR. STERLING AND LEVY TURNPIKE ROAD.—The stockholders of this road met at Wilkerson's shop on Saturday last, and elected the following officers: President, Marion Oldham; Directors, M. W. Anderson, Richard McKee, Dr. J. P. Turner, Frank Chenuit, George W. Anderson, Will H. Winn, Treasurer and Secretary.

See We are informed the company have secured the services of Gen. Ammen to survey and locate the route, and that it is their intention to at once put the road under contract.

THE TEMPLE OF FASHION.

NEW GOODS! LATEST STYLES!

Most Reasonable Prices!

Opening of the Spring Campaign OF 1866!

LEE & WILSON.

WOULD respectfully announce to their old friends and customers, and the Public generally, that they are now daily receiving directly from the East the largest and most desirable

Stock of Dry Goods

Ever brought to this market. Our Mr. Lee was present at the New York opening, and made his selections from the most beautiful and desirable goods, thus securing the very best importations, thereby forestalling the jobbers and allowing us to display upon our shelves in Mt. Sterling the Latest Styles, and Most Fashionable Fabrics of the European Continent.

At the same moment, they are upon the shelves of our friends, and we have the most desirable styles of

Silks, Grenadines, Chamois, &c.

Novel Designs and Colorings,

To which we invite the attention of the Ladies, as the like has never been offered for sale in this city. Our line of

FANCY WHITE GOODS!

is full and complete, embracing everything in usual demand.

Our Hoop Skirt Department!

EMPEROR TRAIL.

DUPLIX ELLIPTIC.

Is supplied directly from the Manufacture of Bradley & Co., and contains all the latest and most graceful styles.

We flatter ourselves that our present importation is unsurpassed and unapproachable. Give us a call, and exercise your own judgment. Ladies, LEE & WILSON, Main Street, March 20.

Special Notices.

AUGUST ELECTION—1866.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

RICHARD R. BOLLING is a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, at the next August election.

WE are authorized to announce JOHN P. THOMPSON, of Owensboro, Business County, as a candidate for the Clerkship of the Court of Appeals, at the next August election. Jan 20, 1866.

For Sheriff.

To the Voters of Montgomery County

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, at the next regular election, to a Democratic Convention.

JAS. H. TRIMBLE, Jan 20, 1866.

For County Clerk.

WE are authorized to announce JOHN MADIX as a candidate for County Clerk of Montgomery county, at the ensuing August election, subject to the decision of a Democratic Convention, should there be one called.

For County Clerk.

WE are authorized to announce Mr. J. J. GIBSON as a candidate for County Clerk of Montgomery county, at the ensuing August election.

A CARD TO INVALIDS.

A Clergyman, while residing in South America, as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of Nervous Weakness, early Decay, Diseases of the Urinary and Sexual Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by dissipated and vicious habits. Great numbers have been already cured by this simple remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it. Free of charge.

Please enclose a post-paid envelope, addressed to yourself.

JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, River House, New York City, Aug. 18, 65.

NEW DRY GOODS

STORE AT CAMARGO!

OREAR, WYATT & BRO.,

ANNOUNCE to the people of Montgomery County that they have purchased the stock of Goods of W. W. Thompson & Co. at Camargo, and are now carrying on a regular Dry Goods Business at his old stand. We have just received direct from the Eastern Cities a large and fashionable

Stock of Dry Goods,

which we pledge ourselves to sell as cheap as they can be bought in any of our neighboring towns. The Ladies are especially invited to call and examine our goods before making their purchases.

REMARK: All persons indebted to the late firm of W. W. Thompson & Co. are notified that they must come forward and settle off their indebtedness, for the business of the old firm must be settled up.

OLD WAXY.

WAXY is standing lower than any horse of his class in Kentucky.

HE will make the present season at his old stand, one mile east of Chintonville, and will serve the mares at FIFTEEN DOLLARS to insure a living colt.

Grass furnished mares from a distance at $1.50 a month, in all cases to be paid before the mare is removed. Mares sold, or otherwise disposed of, the season will be claimed.

As it is difficult and injurious to travel young colts, mares from a distance can be sent before foaling. They will be put by themselves, and great care taken with them.

Description and Pedigree:

Waxy was bred by Isaac Vanmeter, he is a beautiful chestnut sorrel, 16 hands high, and has a fine build and condition.

Waxy was got by Dr. E. Warfield's thoroughbred horse, Borthwick, his dam was Stormy Petrel, a thoroughbred son of Medo; his grand dam by the celebrated Tom Hal.

April 6. W. H. BENICK, Sentinel copy 2 months and charge Obs.

THE TEMPLE OF FASHION.

NEW GOODS! LATEST STYLES!

Most Reasonable Prices!

Opening of the Spring Campaign OF 1866!

LEE & WILSON.

WOULD respectfully announce to their old friends and customers, and the Public generally, that they are now daily receiving directly from the East the largest and most desirable

Stock of Dry Goods

Ever brought to this market. Our Mr. Lee was present at the New York opening, and made his selections from the most beautiful and desirable goods, thus securing the very best importations, thereby forestalling the jobbers and allowing us to display upon our shelves in Mt. Sterling the Latest Styles, and Most Fashionable Fabrics of the European Continent.

At the same moment, they are upon the shelves of our friends, and we have the most desirable styles of

Silks, Grenadines, Chamois, &c.

Novel Designs and Colorings,

To which we invite the attention of the Ladies, as the like has never been offered for sale in this city. Our line of

FANCY WHITE GOODS!

is full and complete, embracing everything in usual demand.

Our Hoop Skirt Department!

EMPEROR TRAIL.

DUPLIX ELLIPTIC.

Is supplied directly from the Manufacture of Bradley & Co., and contains all the latest and most graceful styles.

We flatter ourselves that our present importation is unsurpassed and unapproachable. Give us a call, and exercise your own judgment. Ladies, LEE & WILSON, Main Street, March 20.

Special Notices.

AUGUST ELECTION—1866.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

RICHARD R. BOLLING is a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, at the next August election.

WE are authorized to announce JOHN P. THOMPSON, of Owensboro, Business County, as a candidate for the Clerkship of the Court of Appeals, at the next August election. Jan 20, 1866.

For Sheriff.

To the Voters of Montgomery County

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, at the next regular election, to a Democratic Convention.

JAS. H. TRIMBLE, Jan 20, 1866.

For County Clerk.

WE are authorized to announce JOHN MADIX as a candidate for County Clerk of Montgomery county, at the ensuing August election, subject to the decision of a Democratic Convention, should there be one called.

For County Clerk.

WE are authorized to announce Mr. J. J. GIBSON as a candidate for County Clerk of Montgomery county, at the ensuing August election.

A CARD TO INVALIDS.

A Clergyman, while residing in South America, as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of Nervous Weakness, early Decay, Diseases of the Urinary and Sexual Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by dissipated and vicious habits. Great numbers have been already cured by this simple remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it. Free of charge.

Please enclose a post-paid envelope, addressed to yourself.

JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, River House, New York City, Aug. 18, 65.

NEW DRY GOODS

STORE AT CAMARGO!

OREAR, WYATT & BRO.,

ANNOUNCE to the people of Montgomery County that they have purchased the stock of Goods of W. W. Thompson & Co. at Camargo, and are now carrying on a regular Dry Goods Business at his old stand. We have just received direct from the Eastern Cities a large and fashionable

Stock of Dry Goods,

which we pledge ourselves to sell as cheap as they can be bought in any of our neighboring towns. The Ladies are especially invited to call and examine our goods before making their purchases.

REMARK: All persons indebted to the late firm of W. W. Thompson & Co. are notified that they must come forward and settle off their indebtedness, for the business of the old firm must be settled up.

OLD WAXY.

WAXY is standing lower than any horse of his class in Kentucky.

HE will make the present season at his old stand, one mile east of Chintonville, and will serve the mares at FIFTEEN DOLLARS to insure a living colt.

Grass furnished mares from a distance at $1.50 a month, in all cases to be paid before the mare is removed. Mares sold, or otherwise disposed of, the season will be claimed.

As it is difficult and injurious to travel young colts, mares from a distance can be sent before foaling. They will be put by themselves, and great care taken with them.

Description and Pedigree:

Waxy was bred by Isaac Vanmeter, he is a beautiful chestnut sorrel, 16 hands high, and has a fine build and condition.

Waxy was got by Dr. E. Warfield's thoroughbred horse, Borthwick, his dam was Stormy Petrel, a thoroughbred son of Medo; his grand dam by the celebrated Tom Hal.

April 6. W. H. BENICK, Sentinel copy 2 months and charge Obs.

THE TEMPLE OF FASHION.

NEW GOODS! LATEST STYLES!

Most Reasonable Prices!

Opening of the Spring Campaign OF 1866!

LEE & WILSON.

WOULD respectfully announce to their old friends and customers, and the Public generally, that they are now daily receiving directly from the East the largest and most desirable

Stock of Dry Goods

Ever brought to this market. Our Mr. Lee was present at the New York opening, and made his selections from the most beautiful and desirable goods, thus securing the very best importations, thereby forestalling the jobbers and allowing us to display upon our shelves in Mt. Sterling the Latest Styles, and Most Fashionable Fabrics of the European Continent.

At the same moment, they are upon the shelves of our friends, and we have the most desirable styles of

Silks, Grenadines, Chamois, &c.

Novel Designs and Colorings,

To which we invite the attention of the Ladies, as the like has never been offered for sale in this city. Our line of

FANCY WHITE GOODS!

is full and complete, embracing everything in usual demand.

Our Hoop Skirt Department!

EMPEROR TRAIL.

DUPLIX ELLIPTIC.

Is supplied directly from the Manufacture of Bradley & Co., and contains all the latest and most graceful styles.

We flatter ourselves that our present importation is unsurpassed and unapproachable. Give us a call, and exercise your own judgment. Ladies, LEE & WILSON, Main Street, March 20.

Special Notices.

AUGUST ELECTION—1866.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

RICHARD R. BOLLING is a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, at the next August election.

WE are authorized to announce JOHN P. THOMPSON, of Owensboro, Business County, as a candidate for the Clerkship of the Court of Appeals, at the next August election. Jan 20, 1866.

For Sheriff.

To the Voters of Montgomery County

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, at the next regular election, to a Democratic Convention.

JAS. H. TRIMBLE, Jan 20, 1866.

For County Clerk.

WE are authorized to announce JOHN MADIX as a candidate for County Clerk of Montgomery county, at the ensuing August election, subject to the decision of a Democratic Convention, should there be one called.

For County Clerk.

WE are authorized to announce Mr. J. J. GIBSON as a candidate for County Clerk of Montgomery county, at the ensuing August election.

A CARD TO INVALIDS.

A Clergyman, while residing in South America, as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of Nervous Weakness, early Decay, Diseases of the Urinary and Sexual Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by dissipated and vicious habits. Great numbers have been already cured by this simple remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it. Free of charge.

Please enclose a post-paid envelope, addressed to yourself.

JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, River House, New York City, Aug. 18, 65.

NEW DRY GOODS

STORE AT CAMARGO!

OREAR, WYATT & BRO.,

ANNOUNCE to the people of Montgomery County that they have purchased the stock of Goods of W. W. Thompson & Co. at Camargo, and are now carrying on a regular Dry Goods Business at his old stand. We have just received direct from the Eastern Cities a large and fashionable

Stock of Dry Goods,

which we pledge ourselves to sell as cheap as they can be bought in any of our neighboring towns. The Ladies are especially invited to call and examine our goods before making their purchases.

REMARK: All persons indebted to the late firm of W. W. Thompson & Co. are notified that they must come forward and settle off their indebtedness, for the business of the old firm must be settled up.

OLD WAXY.

WAXY is standing lower than any horse of his class in Kentucky.

HE will make the present season at his old stand, one mile east of Chintonville, and will serve the mares at FIFTEEN DOLLARS to insure a living colt.

Grass furnished mares from a distance at $1.50 a month, in all cases to be paid before the mare is removed. Mares sold, or otherwise disposed of, the season will be claimed.

As it is difficult and injurious to travel young colts, mares from a distance can be sent before foaling. They will be put by themselves, and great care taken with them.

Description and Pedigree:

Waxy was bred by Isaac Vanmeter, he is a beautiful chestnut sorrel, 16 hands high, and has a fine build and condition.

Waxy was got by Dr. E. Warfield's thoroughbred horse, Borthwick, his dam was Stormy Petrel, a thoroughbred son of Medo; his grand dam by the celebrated Tom Hal.

April 6. W. H. BENICK, Sentinel copy 2 months and charge Obs.

JOHNSON & THOMPSON'S COLUMN.

NEW STORE! NEW FIRM! NEW GOODS!

JOHNSON & THOMPSON.

TAKE this method of informing the People that they are daily receiving and opening out in their

NEW & SPACIOUS HOUSE

ON MAIN ST., MT. STERLING, KY.

Direct from the Eastern Cities, the largest and most complete assortment of Dry Goods and Domestic!

Ever before offered in this market. Our stock is selected in person at the East, with a view to the wants of this community. Our fabrics are all of the latest and most fashionable styles, and are the product of the best looms in this and the old world. Our stock consists in part of the following:

Plain Blk, Fancy, Striped & Check'd

SILKS,

Organdies, Jackson, Kachlands, and Linen Lawns

Tartanines, Grape Maris, Tarlatans, Mozambique, and

Bon Jour De Laines,

PLAIN AND FANCY COLORED

Alpacas,

Chambray Gingham, French Gingham, and Domestic Gingham.

Spring, American, Richmond & Mericam

PRINTS.

The above line of Dress Goods, we have in full and complete assortment, purchased with care, of which we can say, for quality, none better for appearance, none prettier, for style, none later.

New York Mills

and Lonsdale

Black Muslins, Atlantic A and Princeton A

HEAVY BROWN MUSLINS,

Fine Brown Muslin and Heavy Brown Drillings,

Coltonades, Checks & Stripes,

Fine Cottonades,

and Linens for Summer Wear.

A fine

A GOOD MEDICINE The People's Friend

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE
Takes away all kinds of Pain, Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Headache, Stomachache, Indigestion, Cholera, Diarrhea, and all other ailments.

APPLIED EXTERNALLY, CURES
Rheumatism, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Wounds, and all other external ailments.

PAIN KILLER taken internally, should be administered with milk or water, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a Cough, a few drops on sugar eaten will be more effective than anything else.

See Printed Directions which accompany each bottle.
The PAIN KILLER is by universal consent allowed to have won for Dr. Davis a reputation unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. Its instantaneous effect in the entire eradication and extinction of PAIN, in all its various forms, has been the cause of its popularity, and the unsolicited written and verbal testimony of the masses in its favor, have been and are its own best advertisement.

BEWARE OF ALL IMITATIONS!
The Pain Killer is sold by all respectable Druggists throughout the United States and in Foreign Countries.

Price—25 cents, 50 cents and $1 per bottle.
J. N. HARRIS & CO., Cincinnati, O.
Sole Wholesale and Retail for the Southern and Western States.
Sold Wholesale and Retail by
Edward Wilder & Co., Louisville,
R. A. Robinson & Co., do
Erwin & Pendleton, Nashville,
J. T. Green, Mount Sterling, Ky.
Also, by all Wholesale Druggists in Kentucky.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, THE GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

THE results of its use is a proof of its great value. The extraordinary Healing Properties of this remedy are experienced by all those who have used it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the Agents where the medicine is for sale.

Coughs and Colds, however distressing, are broken up in an incredible short time, by causing a specific influence on the lungs, so that the matter and phlegm are easily expectorated. Spasms and Stitches of the Chest are quickly relieved, by the irritation of the lungs, which immediately checked, by the strength being restored. The remedy is a sure and reliable cure, as the blood becomes purified.

Allen's Lung Balsam contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child.

Consumers would do well to read his treatise on diseased lungs.

Physicians who have failed to cure their patients should try this Medicine. It has been used in the case of a man, who knew very many valuable lives have been saved by being persuaded to take it.

Don't Forget That
Allen's Lung Balsam will break up the most distressing Cough in a few hours.

Many cases of Consumption, that were considered incurable, have been cured by this medicine. Call and get a pamphlet, and read the remarkable cures, which will convince you of the great value of this Medicine.

Don't Despair because all other remedies have failed, but try the remedy and you will not be deceived. For sale by the Proprietors,
J. N. HARRIS & CO., Cincinnati, O.
Price—One Dollar Per Bottle. Sold by Medicine Dealers throughout the city and country. It is a Good Remedy—Try It.

For Sale by
Norton & Sharpe, Lexington;
Edward Wilder & Co., Louisville;
Wilson & Peter, do;
Berry, Demore & Wharton, Nashville;
J. T. Green, Mount Sterling, Ky.
Feb. 9, 1866-3mshp.

Important to the Ladies! LEARD & SIMMS' PATENT SYSTEM

EMBROIDERING AND BRAIDING.
MRS. LUCY CAMPBELL

WOULD respectfully announce to the Ladies of Mt. Sterling, and Montgomery county, that she has purchased the exclusive right to use this system of Embroidering and Braiding in this county. It is especially adapted for LADIES' CHILDREN'S DRESSES, AND OTHER CLOTHING.

SLIPPERS, PINCUSHIONS, WATCH-POCKETS, TABLE COVERS, BANDERCHIERS, NECK TIES, &c., &c.

If it can be executed the most fashionable style of Embroidering and Braiding, at a low cost, and on goods of almost any material. Her terms are most liberal—much less than the cost of the old system. She can be seen at her residence, on Main Street, opposite the Methodist Church, where she will be happy to exhibit specimens, and receive orders.

MRS. LUCY CAMPBELL.
March 2d

LIVERY & SALE STABLE.

The Large and Commodious Livery Stable attached to the Kentucky Hotel, under the immediate supervision of

W. E. GATEWOOD,
Has undergone a thorough repair, and is supplied with new

Carriages, Saddles, Hacks, &c., and No. 1 SADDLE HORSES. Horses kept by the day or week. Persons wanting anything in the line will find me, or some one at the office of the stable, at any hour of the day or night, or at the office of the Kentucky Hotel.

Feb. 9-17.

WILLARD HOTEL,

Opposite the Court House,
MOUNT STERLING, KY.
Is kept, newly fitted and furnished.

WILLARD & CO.,
Proprietors.

H. CAMPBELL, HAT TAILOR,

MAIN STREET,
MOUNT STERLING, KENTUCKY.

WOULD most respectfully announce to the Citizens of Montgomery and adjoining Counties, that he keeps constantly on hand

Superior Quality of Goods!
Consisting of the following:

Cloths, Cassimers,
VESTINGS,

HATS & CAPS!
AND

FURNISHING GOODS,
I am prepared at all times to give a gentleman a

GOOD FIT.
My work is in every case

Warranted to give Satisfaction!
It being manufactured by the

BEST PRACTICAL TAILORS

The country affords. I also keep constantly on hand a large and fashionable lot of

READY MADE CLOTHING,
Which I offer for sale at the

LOWEST PRICES.
Thankful for the very liberal patronage heretofore extended to me, and requesting a continuance of the same,
I am, Respytly, &c. H. CAMPBELL,
July 13, 1865.

GREAT BARGAINS IN DRY GOODS!

HAVING returned from the Eastern market, I am now receiving and opening a large and well assorted stock of Goods, consisting of a great variety of

NEW STYLES OF DRESS GOODS!
EMBROIDERIES,
Gloves, Hosiery,
STAPLE DRY GOODS,
CLOTHS & CASSIMERS

BOOTS AND SHOES, HATS,
QUEENWARE AND GLASSWARE!
And a large and elegant Stock of

CARPETS,
FLOOR AND FURNITURE
OIL CLOTHS, HEARTH RUGS,
Worsted Damasks, &c.

All of which I will sell at CINCINNATI PRICES. I purchased my goods for Cash, and with great care, and believe that I can offer you inducements to give me your patronage. I am doing strictly a CASH BUSINESS, and will sell at a small advance on New York Prices. Call and see my Goods, and don't buy them until you are satisfied. Very Respectfully,
ROBT. M. BARNES.
Sept. 22.

Maysville Marble Works! H. GILLMORE,

MARKET STREET,
MAYSVILLE, KY.
ORDERERS from Country Solicited. Persons desiring work, by communicating or orders left with Mr. JAMES H. ROBERTS, at the Roberts House, Mt. Sterling, Ky., will receive prompt attention. mar-9-33

THE WONDERFUL CHILD
MAGNETIC LIFE ELIXIR.
FOR
CLEANSING THE BLOOD,
AND
BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

THE undersigned would announce to the Farmers of Montgomery, and the adjoining counties, that he has now on hand a lot of STEEL PLOWS, of all sizes, of his own make. As the farmers are well acquainted with my work, I do not deem it necessary to go into a long "pull" of it. I will only say the work I have on hand at this time is no good as I have ever made. REPAIRING done at the shortest notice.
Feb. 3. J. P. GAMES.

1866. PHILADELPHIA. 1866. WALL PAPERS. HOWELL & BOURKE, NEWARK, N. J.

PAPER HANGINGS AND WINDOW SHADES
CORNERS FOURTH AND MARKET STS.,
PHILADELPHIA.

N. B.—Always in Store, a large Stock of
LINEN & OIL SHADES
Jan. 26-27-3m.

NEW STOVE & TINWARE ESTABLISHMENT. DENNIS McMAHON.

WOULD most respectfully announce to the people of Montgomery and the adjoining Counties, that he has opened a new Stove and Tinware Establishment in Mt. Sterling, in the room adjoining Crawford & Capps' Grocery, where he intends keeping on hand a large lot of

Stoves & Fancy Japaned Ware
And all kinds of

Tinware of his own Manufacture!
Which he will sell as cheap, if not cheaper, than any other house in this section of the State. He is also prepared to attend to all orders for

Roofing and Gutters!
REPAIRING of all kinds promptly attended to.
Jan. 12.

W. H. WILSON,
Cincinnati, Ohio.
Manufacturers and Dealers in

BOOTS AND SHOES

RECORD BOOKS,
MAYSVILLE, KY.
Engl. 8-17

HARDWARE! SIGN OF THE BIG LOCK

Main Street,
MT. STERLING, KY.

HOFFMAN & CO.,
WOULD respectfully announce to the citizens of Montgomery and surrounding counties, that they are now daily receiving and constantly opening at their old stand (Sign of the Big Lock) fresh invoices of Goods in their line.

Their stock consists exclusively of first-class goods, made of first-class material, and of the latest standard patterns. Persons buying of them may confidently rely upon getting the best, and at prices that will compare favorably with those of any similar establishment in the West. They have on hand (just received) the following class of goods, embracing only a small title of their stock:

Stoves! Stoves!! Stoves!!!
All styles Cooking Stoves, every pattern Box Stoves, Stoves for the Parlor, Stoves for Public Rooms, Stoves for Family Rooms

All of the most stylish patterns, most durable material, and most beautiful and artistic finish.

FIRE-PLACE FURNITURE!
Franklin Stoves, and Grates, Stoves, and

TABLE APPLIANCES!
Knives and Forks, Table and Teaspoons, Soup and Sauce Spoons, Carving Knives & Forks.

From the best English, German and American Factories.

Our Cutlery Department!
Is especially complete—being supplied with everything in daily request among ladies and gentlemen, comprising in part, the best makes of Shears and Scissors, Pen and Pocket Knives, Razors and Honors, all of which have been selected with an eye to excellence of workmanship and durability of material.

CARPENTERS,
CABINET-MAKERS,
In short, every one who needs and uses Edge-Tools, of whatever kind, may secure them at this establishment. Their Stock of Planes, Saws, Chisels, Hatchets, Squares, Levels, Axes, &c.

Is the best ever offered in this market. Their line of

NAILS, SCREWS,
LOCKS, CHAINS,
CASTINGS, &c., &c.

Is very full, and embraces all sizes and makes. They have also one of the finest assortments of

CHINA, GLASS,
AND QUEENWARE.

Ever exposed for sale in this community, which embraces all the newest, most elegant, and most fashionable styles. To supply a want long felt in this community, they have laid in a full line of

Wall Papers and Window Shades,
Of the most beautiful and fashionable designs which they will dispose of at a very small advance on the New York Price.

In conclusion, they respectfully invite the public to call and examine their stock, and they feel confident that they will be able to give perfect satisfaction to all.

HOFFMAN & CO.,
Mt. Sterling, Feb. 17.

MISS TENNESSEE'S

MASON & FANT,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
HATS, CAPS,
—AND—
STRAW GOODS,

Warehouse, No. 57 West Pearl St.
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Pearce, Tolle & Holton,
IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF
Foreign, Domestic, Staple & Fancy

DRY GOODS,
HOSIERY, NOTIONS, &c.

7, South-West cor. Pearl and Vine Sts
CINCINNATI.

Rowland, Irvine & Co.
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
BOOTS & SHOES.

No. 102 WALNUT STREET,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

ROBERTS HOUSE

102 West Pearl Street,
JAS. H. ROBERTS, Proprietor.

Has recently purchased the well-known Hotel and formerly called the "Sterling House," would respectfully announce to the traveling public that he has now opened the house for the accommodation of the public. The house has been thoroughly scoured from attic to cellar, and refurnished with new and elegant furniture. I can say with truth, that there is nowhere a better appointed hotel stand in Montgomery County. I will do my utmost to deserve the patronage asked for, by attention to the wants of guests.

Those in connection with the hotel a large and commodious table, and persons stopping at this house may rely upon having their stock well cared for.

JAS. H. ROBERTS.
Feb. 2.

Saddle and Harness

MANUFACTORY.
SADDLES, Harness, Bridles,
Stirrups, Gun Saps, Whips,
Collars, Backbands, Wagon Harness,
Blankets, and many other articles too tedious to mention.

All the above mentioned to be of the best material. Call and see before purchasing elsewhere. REPAIRING done on the shortest notice.

THOMAS CLARKE,
Main St., Mt. Sterling, Ky.
July 21.

JOHN HARPER

520 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.
Watches, Fine Gold Jewelry, Solid Silver Ware, and Superior Silver Plated Ware, at Reduced Prices!

March 22, 66

CINCINNATI ADVERTISEMENTS H. C. BRUCE & CO., WHOLESALE GROCER

COMMISSION MERCHANTS
No. 36 W. Second or Columbia Street,
April 6-15. CINCINNATI, OH.

FAIRBANKS STANDARD SCALES

OF ALL KINDS.
Cotton Beams and Frames, Cotton Hay and Rag Presses, Warehouse Trucks, Buggy Barrows, Copying Presses, &c.

FAIRBANKS, MORSE & CO.,
123 Walnut Street, CINCINNATI.
Feb. 2-15shp.

W. M. MADDOX has this day withdrawn from the firm of Maddox Brothers, Thomas Maddox, Thomas A. Matthews, Mayville, Kentucky, and H. G. Sexton, has been admitted. The business will be conducted as heretofore under the style and firm of

MADDOX BROS. & CO.,
No 37 Pearl St.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 1, 1866.

Lewis Maddox, T. A. Matthews, Thos. Maddox, J. W. Levens, of Mayville, Ky. &c.

MADDOX BROS. & CO.

DEALERS IN
Manufactured & Leaf Tobacco
CIGARS & TEA.

No. 27 Pearl Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Referring to the above, I beg leave to say my thanks to my old friends and customers, and solicit a continuance of their patronage and custom to the new firm. W. B. MADDOX,
Jan. 19, 1866-17

Levi Friedman, Sam'l Stern, Jas. S. Turner, FRIEDMAN, STERN & TURNER, WHOLESALE CLOTHING

Cloths, Cassimeres,
VESTINGS & TRIMMINGS,
No. 68 PEARL STREET,
Bet. Walnut & Vine, CINCINNATI, O.
August 18, 1865.

W. S. Dickinson, Jno. Z. Price, Jno. W. Bishop,
DICKINSON, PRICE & BISHOP,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

HATS, CAPS,
FURS AND
STRAW GOODS,
102 AND 104 PEARL STREET,
N. W. Cor. 5th & Vine,
CINCINNATI, O.

JAS. P. FANT,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
HATS, CAPS,
—AND—
STRAW GOODS,

Warehouse, No. 57 West Pearl St.
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Pearce, Tolle & Holton,
IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF
Foreign, Domestic, Staple & Fancy

DRY GOODS,
HOSIERY, NOTIONS, &c.

7, South-West cor. Pearl and Vine Sts
CINCINNATI.

Rowland, Irvine & Co.
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
BOOTS & SHOES.

No. 102 WALNUT STREET,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

ROBERTS HOUSE

102 West Pearl Street,
JAS. H. ROBERTS, Proprietor.

Has recently purchased the well-known Hotel and formerly called the "Sterling House," would respectfully announce to the traveling public that he has now opened the house for the accommodation of the public. The house has been thoroughly scoured from attic to cellar, and refurnished with new and elegant furniture. I can say with truth, that there is nowhere a better appointed hotel stand in Montgomery County. I will do my utmost to deserve the patronage asked for, by attention to the wants of guests.

Those in connection with the hotel a large and commodious table, and persons stopping at this house may rely upon having their stock well cared for.

JAS. H. ROBERTS.
Feb. 2.

Saddle and Harness

MANUFACTORY.
SADDLES, Harness, Bridles,
Stirrups, Gun Saps, Whips,
Collars, Backbands, Wagon Harness,
Blankets, and many other articles too tedious to mention.

All the above mentioned to be of the best material. Call and see before purchasing elsewhere. REPAIRING done on the shortest notice.

THOMAS CLARKE,
Main St., Mt. Sterling, Ky.
July 21.

JOHN HARPER

520 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.
Watches, Fine Gold Jewelry, Solid Silver Ware, and Superior Silver Plated Ware, at Reduced Prices!

March 22, 66

CRAWFORD & CAPPS, DEALERS IN Family Groceries,

MAIN STREET,
MOUNT STERLING, KY.
Below Kentucky Hotel,
KEEP constantly on hand a choice selection of

Family Groceries,
Consisting of the following:

Granulated, Pulverized & Refined
SUGARS!
Of the best brands;

COFFEE, TEA, TOBACCO,
MACKEREL,
Shot, Powder, Caps,
AND CIGARS.

All the best brands of Cheating and Smoking Tobacco, and a fine assortment of

CANNED FRUITS:
Lemon Syrup, Candies, Candles, Starch, Soap, Spices, and many other articles too tedious to mention, all of which have been brought for Cash, and we will sell them to our customers and friends as cheap as they can be bought east of the mountains. Give us your patronage, and we will guarantee satisfaction. We hope by strict attention to business and fair dealing, to be able to give our fellow townsmen in every respect, as regards price and quality of articles. We return our sincere thanks for past favors, and ask a continuance of the same.

Attached to our Grocery is

A SALOON.

The Bar is furnished with the best and

PUREST LIQUORS,
Persons wishing a good drink can be accommodated at any time. Give me a call.
Nov. 3. CRAWFORD & CAPPS.

KENTUCKY HOTEL,

Cor. Main & Maysville Sts.,
MT. STERLING, KY.

MRS. MARY CAMTER, Propress.

THIS House has recently been thoroughly refurnished, and is now in complete order for the reception of guests.

The Proprietress, thankful for the very liberal patronage heretofore extended to her house, begs leave to re-assure all who may be tempted to patronize the part of her or her assistants, to render them the utmost satisfaction. Her is at all times supplied with the best marketable. The

SALOON,

Under the management of Mr. Jos. E. Lindsay is supplied with the choice of Scotch and Domestic Liquors, Fine Cigars, &c.
July 21, 1865.

JOHN CURLEY, FAMOUS BOOT & SHOE MAKER,

MAIN STREET,
MT. STERLING, KY.
Opposite Crawford & Hall's Grocery.

KEEPS constantly on hand and is always prepared to furnish any style of tamour desired, from a

Boot or Shoe!

Persons wishing anything in my line would do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere, as I will guarantee satisfaction in every case.
July 21, 1865.

WOOD & BROTHER, LIVERY AND SALE STABLES,

Main Street, Mt. Sterling, Ky.
A. T. WOOD

WOULD respectfully announce to the public, that he has associated with him in the Livery and Sale business, his brother John, consolidating their stock, under the name and firm as above. We are prepared to furnish any style of tamour desired, from a Royal Carriage to an Irish Buggy.

Their Horses are all blooded and matched animals, and in their stud may be found the Arabian, Best as the name of the animal is desired, the Andalusian, beautiful and gentle as the daughters of its native clime; the Saxon Grey, enduring to suit the public, and going about with the sublimity of the great English reeve; the gadabout. Do you want a horse stout enough to pull a hill from its foundations? TRY ONE OF OUR MORGANS.

Do you want something truly to draw your heavy load? TRY ONE OF OUR

OUR PRIZERS MARK.
With mane long, soft, silky and flowing as a lady's hair. The eyes smart and sparkling like diamonds. Get behind our Arabian, Lightning-Tamer.

In short, if you want anything in the shape of Vehicle or Horseflesh, you need go no further. We always keep them. Our

TERMS ARE SO REASONABLE,
That all persons who patronize us regularly for one year will be rich at the end of that time.

We board horses by the

DAY, WEEK OR MONTH,
On favorable terms. Remember when you want a ride, Respectfully,
WOOD & BROTHER.

March 9, 1866-33-17

PROBERT & McKEE,

Consisting in part of
Dining and Extension Tables,
WHAT-NOTS, PLAIN & ORNAMENTAL
BUREAUS, WASHSTANDS,
Bed Springs, and all kinds of

MATRASSES AND BEDSTEADS,
SOFA, & THE EXTRA DOUBLE & SINGLE LOUNGES.

Will attend Funerals, and keep all sizes of
WOOD AND METALLIC COFFINS.
I hope the Ladies will call and see my Furniture before buying elsewhere.

March 9, 1866-17

CRAWFORD & CAPPS, DEALERS IN Family Groceries,

MAIN STREET,
MOUNT STERLING, KY.
Below Kentucky Hotel,
KEEP constantly on hand a choice selection of

Family Groceries,
Consisting of the following:

Granulated, Pulverized & Refined
SUGARS!
Of the best brands;

COFFEE, TEA, TOBACCO,
MACKEREL,
Shot, Powder, Caps,
AND CIGARS.

All the best brands of Cheating and Smoking Tobacco, and a fine assortment of

CANNED FRUITS:
Lemon Syrup, Candies, Candles, Starch, Soap, Spices, and many other articles too tedious to mention, all of which have been brought for Cash, and we will sell them to our customers and friends as cheap as they can be bought east of the mountains. Give us your patronage, and we will guarantee satisfaction. We hope by strict attention to business and fair dealing, to be able to give our fellow townsmen in every respect, as regards price and quality of articles. We return our sincere thanks for past favors, and ask a continuance of the same.

Attached to our Grocery is

A SALOON.

The Bar is furnished with the best and

PUREST LIQUORS,
Persons wishing a good drink can be accommodated at any time. Give me a call.
Nov. 3. CRAWFORD & CAPPS.